

"Whatever limits you is not true."

At CL Schneider Mentoring, we are passionate about providing self-empowering and life-transforming e-learning growth programs to people 50+ worldwide. Our clients often have successful careers but are seeking true meaning and fulfillment in their lives. This includes the desire to continue being successful but having much more time freedom. To experience the "rest of their life" in a healthy and fulfilling way. Self and success education is one of the most fast-growing markets worldwide. We want to increase our market share in the 50+ segment and enrich our team with a growth-oriented, big-hearted business developer. A visionary, a big thinker who wants to make an impact and truly believes that self-empowerment is the key for success.

What you will set in motion

- develop new strategies to enter additional niche markets 50+
- market research and definition of new advertising channels to reach our target groups more directly
- clarification of needs on the phone with our customers in order to be able to work out strategies in a success- and target group-oriented manner
- supporting and empowering the team to succeed by sharing your success nuggets and achievements
- your own personal development, self-empowerment and growth journey

What you bring along

- at least 5 years of professional experience in business development or leadership
- a growth- and success-oriented mindset, open to learn and to develop yourself
- curiosity about pushing boundaries and to explore what is possible in this fast growing industry
- newcomer to the topic of success- and self-education 50+, most welcome!
- enjoyment of exchanging ideas and success concepts with team members all over the world
- the desire to work fully remote, self-managed, self-driven and goal-oriented

What we offer

- flexible workload to work at your own healthy pace and to combine perfectly with your current engagement
- opportunity to make a real difference in the lives of people 50+ and their journey of self-empowerment
- working in a uniquely growth, wellbeing- and success-oriented environment
- we are success-oriented and this is how we remunerate our developer: generous commission basis
- an empowering network of strong leaders and access to life-transforming mindset shift courses

How you proceed

If you dare to show up differently, then call us directly. We welcome people who show courage and get in touch immediately if this ad appeals to you positively. This is your success mentor and powerhouse on the phone:
Nicole Schneider +41 76 490 93 91

We are looking forward to speaking to you straight away!

